Steamship Company Prepares
To Fight Shipping Board.

GENERAL SEIZURE OF SHIPS CERTAIN

United States Company Refuses
To Submit to Seizures.

Officials Offer To Deposit Amount
Claimed in Escrow, but Shipping Board Insists Vessels
Be Given Another Line.

New York, July 27.—While both sides of the "shipping war" are busily tuning up their legal batteries, today, the real reason for the United States shipping board seizing nine great transatlantic liners allocated to the United States Mail Steamship company remained in obscurity.

Shipping-board officials in New York would assign no other reason for the seizures than the fact that the mail line owed the board $400,000, nor would they indicate whether the action prefigured a general seizure of ships from companies owing the board real money.

Officials of the mail line disclosed that they had offered to deposit $400,000 in escrow as a guarantee of good faith. This offer, they said, had been turned down by the shipping board, which insisted that the fleet be turned over to the United American-Harriman line, a competitor.

It was further charged that the Harriman line, themselves, owed the shipping board $7,000,000. Officials of the Harriman concern would neither confirm nor deny this, referring inquiries to the shipping board.

AN AKRON MAN IS LODGED IN JAIL

Held To Answer for Killing of Brother-in-Law.

Akron, July 27.—Charles Blair was locked up today, when detectives charged him with delivering the blow that caused his brother-in-law's death.

According to the police theory, Blair argued with Bruce Harpster, the brother-in-law, about going home when he found him on the street in an intoxicated condition. Police say that Harpster became angry and used ugly words, causing Blair to knock him down. Harpster's head hit the pavement with such force as to crack the skull, according to the evidence at the coroner's inquest and the arrest following.

Next Stand Trial.

Washington, July 27.—All hope that Ashton F. Embury, E. Wilcox Mayer and Barnett E. Moses, indicted for alleged conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the United States supreme court "leak," might have had of quashing the indictment, vanished today, when the court of appeals of the District of Columbia denied them a special appeal from a decision by Justice Frederick L. Siddons, of the district supreme court, upholding the indictment. All defendants must now stand trial.

Two Indictments.

Chicago, July 27.—Two indictments charging Warren C. Spurgin, managing head of the Michigan Avenue Trust company, with embezzlement and larceny by bailer were voted by the grand jury, according to announcement by Assistant State's Attorney James McShane. Although the exact amount of Spurgin's alleged shortage has not been announced, it is believed to exceed $1,000,000. Mrs. Spurgin and her daughter, Vivian, who were arrested last night are still held for questioning.

Still Explodes.

Martinez, California, July 27.—Two men were killed outright and several others injured here, early today, when a steam pipe in the bottom of the large stills at the Shell Oil company plant exploded. The cause of the explosion is not known. The bursting still injured several other workmen nearby, but not seriously.

MAY RECOMMEND A NEW MEASURE

Washington, July 27.—The administration may recommend the passage of a soldier compensation bill when the question of funding the foreign debts is settled. President Harding indicated today to Gilbert Wetman, chairman of the legislative committee of the American Legion, who urged the president to call for an early passage of such legislation.

The president informed Wetman that he is opposed to the bonus bill now in congress and its passage at this time, but would recommend enactment of a substitute.

CAMP SHERMAN MAY NOT BE ABANDONED

May Be Fitted Up as a Hospital
Center, Willis Says.

Washington, July 27.—Camp Sherman, at Chillicothe, may be retained by the war department and fitted up as a hospital center, Senator Willis, Republican, Ohio, indicated today after a conference with President Harding. Willis would not discuss the president's plan for the use of the Ohio camp, but he expressed the belief that the establishment would not be abandoned or sold.

To Quit Camps.

Washington, July 27.—Abandonment of Camp Devens, Mass.; Sherman, Ohio; Grant, Illinois; Pike, Arkansas; Meade, Maryland; Jackson, South Carolina and Bragg, North Carolina, was announced yesterday by Secretary John W. Weeks.

Camps to be retained are Dix, New Jersey; Travis, Texas; Lewis, Washington, and Knox, Kentucky, Mr. Knox said.

A small force of regulars, the secretary said, will be retained at Camp Meade, but the great majority will be moved and the greater part of the buildings salvaged, but that the land and certain permanent improvements would be retained for use in event of a future appropriation permitting their utilization as citizens' military training camps.

PROBING PROHIBITION IN THE UNITED STATES

Labor Members of British Parliament After Information.

New York, July 27.—Two members of the British parliament have started a frayed investigation to ascertain law prohibition is working out in the United States. The two, Charles H. Eitch, member for Kingswinford, Staffordshire, and John E. Davidson, member for Southwick, Birmingham, said they would report their findings to the labor party, of which they are members. Both took occasion to deny predictions of American reformers that England will be dry within 10 years, asserting there was little doubt at least in the labor party. The Britishers will spend two weeks in New York and then will visit other cities and towns.

Viscount Northcliffe, the British publisher, who is in New York, when asked what he thought about prohibition, said, "Take me to a place where there is prohibition and I'll tell you what I think about it. When does prohibition begin?"

OBREGON FAVORING OIL CONCESSIONS

Would Give Foreign Companies
Better Terms in Mexico.

Mexico City, July 27.—President Obregon favors a policy of concession towards foreign oil companies, it was learned today. At a joint meeting of senators and deputies, General Obregon proposed that a law be enacted by congress giving the president extraordinary powers in oil matters. President Obregon said he believed that Article 27 of the constitution, governing foreign property rights, should be modified and that this could best be done by giving the president wide powers to deal with matters falling under the law.

The senators were willing to grant such powers, but the deputies were opposed.

BODY OF CAPTAIN G. A. LUNG FOUND

Officer Kills Himself Because of Domestic Troubles.

Providence, Rhode Island, July 27.—The body of Captain G. A. Lung, a surgeon in the United States navy, assigned to the naval war college at Newport, with a bullet from a .45-caliber rifle in the head, was found today, at Pessagash, Bristol, Rhode Island, by the keeper of his estate. Captain Lung served under Admiral Sampson at Santiago. He also served on the presidential yacht, Mayflower, under Theodore Roosevelt's administration. Domestic affairs are given by friends as a probable reason for his act.

Early Trading.

New York, July 27.—United Druggs was again very weak in the early trading on the stock exchange, today, falling 5 1/4 points to 69. Otherwise, the undertone of the market was firm.

SENATORS MEET AT WHITE HOUSE

Twelve Are Guests of President at Dinner.

TAX REVISION IS THE SUBJECT DISCUSSED

President and Senators Seek Speed in Disposing of the Problems of Taxation.

Washington, July 27.—Twelve leading Republican senators were guests, last night, of President Harding at a dinner at the White House, preceding a general conference with the chief executive on the question of procedure and preference in dealing with the pressing problems of tariff, taxation and railroad adjustments.

The twelve were Senators Boies Penrose, of Pennsylvania; Reed Smoot, of Utah; James E. Watson, of Indiana; Charles Curtis, of Kansas; Frank B. Brandegee, of Connecticut; James W. Wadsworth Jr., of New York; Irvine L. Lenroot, of Wisconsin; Miles Poindexter, of Washington; Frank B. Kelllogg, of Minnesota; Charles E. Townsend, of Michigan; Arthur Capper, of Kansas and George H. Moses, of New Hampshire.

At least one of the twelve, Senator Watson, of Indiana, ranking member of the senate finance committee, went to the White House dinner prepared to insist upon placing revenue revision ahead of tariff revision, on the administration program in the senate.

Senators Address Chief.

Two weeks ago Senator Watson, in a forceful address in the senate, pointed out the importance of revising the Federal taxation system at the earliest possible moment as the most effective means to restore normal conditions and to give employment to the hundreds of thousands of workmen throughout the country who are idle.

Since that time there have been a number of converts to the Watson idea. It is said that Senator Penrose, chairman of the finance committee, who advocated enactment of the tariff bill ahead of taxation revision, has joined the movement to advance revenue revision to the head of the senate calendar year in the administration's major legislative program.

Strong intimation was given at the White House that President Harding anticipates that the senate finance committee will report on the taxation measure, when it is received from the White House, before it submits the tariff bill.

Speedy Action Possible.

Certain leaders of the house, it is said, have informed the president that it is impossible for the house to frame and enact a taxation revision bill by August 6, or in less than two weeks. This is one week sooner than the most optimistic member of the house ways and means committee had indicated that it could be done.

Grave Doubt.

The later prediction was received with grave doubt today, but it shows the temper of the leaders toward a speeding up of the taxation measure.

The inference was given at the White House that the senate finance committee is prepared to begin hearings on the tariff immediately and that from two to four weeks are to be devoted to these hearings. However, should the taxation bill reach the committee within two weeks, the tariff bill is to be put aside and the taxation taken up immediately.

Confirmation was given at the executive offices, yesterday, despatches indicating a crystallization of sentiment both in the senate and in the house in favor of a congressional recess during August and also of the most likely features of the new taxation bill. To the latter, enumerated last night, might be added an automobile owners' tax, based upon the horse-power of the motor vehicle.

It is not believed that there will be executive opposition to a recess, provided the taxation revision bill shall have been enacted in the house before the recess is taken. During the recess the finance committee can be conducting hearings on the bill as it came from the house.

Taxation Plans.

Washington, July 27.—Taxation upon a basis of spending and the purchase tax were taken up for consideration today, by the house ways and means committee studying taxation revision.

The spenders' tax was advocated by Representative Mills, of New York, and the purchase tax, by C. F. Landreth, of Philadelphia.

The sales tax advocated by the United States chamber of commerce and other organizations has been laid away in the committee pigeon-hole for the present. The committee has decided against consumption tax at this time, although the sales tax plan will certainly be brought to the fore if an attempt is made to jam the soldier bonus bill through congress in December. Representatives of farmers' organizations who appeared before the committee, yesterday, are the only

CAMPING OUT IS A GREAT LIFE, SAYS PRESIDENT

President Harding and George Christian secretary to the president, about to enter their tent. The president enjoyed his two-day camping out vacation immensely in the Blue Ridge mountains at the Edison-Ford-Firestone camp. The president made his last day in camp a lively one. He rode horseback and tramped over the hills, in addition to attending religious services.

Friends of the excess profits tax who have thus far been heard and the appeal of these witnesses for the retention of this tax brought a storm of disapproval from business interests, today.

As the hearings proceed, the protest against various taxes continue to pour in, until Chairman Fordney observed, today, that "It is the old game all over again, tax everybody but me."

There is hardly a tax which has not been protested against thus far and every mention of a new tax brings a storm of protest to the committee.

File a Protest.

Washington, July 27.—Charging that the "great corporations and the wealthy are trying to shift the burden of taxation on those less able to pay," the American Federation of Labor, today, filed a protest against repeal of the excess-profits tax, or reduction of income surtaxes with the house ways and means committee.

F. C. McGandy appeared in behalf of the federation and said that his organization favored an increased inheritance tax and higher taxes on land values, undeveloped property and natural resources.

Jail Under Guard.

Scottsboro, Alabama, July 27.—Armed guards have been thrown about the jail here in an effort to prevent an outbreak of mob violence against seven negroes who are being held in connection with the shooting of Deputy U. S. Marshal Edward Moody, Sunday. The negroes were rounded up after it was learned they had attended a dance at the home of Joe Stone, another negro, who is alleged to have fired the shot that killed Moody. Threats of lynching have been prevalent since the men were taken into custody.

Opposes Conference.

Montgomery, Alabama, July 27.—Governor Kilby, today, wired Clarence J. Owen, director of the southern commercial congress that he did not consider the pellagra situation serious enough to warrant a conference being held here. Governor Kilby's message to Owen refuses to sanction a request for such a call made by Surgeon General Cummings, of the United States public health service.

Veterans To Parade.

Cleveland, July 27.—More than 10,000 veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American and World wars were to parade, today, as part of Cleveland's anniversary celebration program. Governor Davis and John G. Emery, national commander of the American legion, were to review the soldiers. A half-holiday was proclaimed by the mayor.

An Amendment.

Washington, July 27.—A tax of thirty-five cents a barrel on oil and a fifteen-per-cent ad valorem duty on hides are provided in an amendment to the Fordney tariff bill offered by Senator Curtis, Republican, of Kansas, in the senate today. The amendments were offered to the senate finance committee and are the same as those rejected by the house when it passed the Fordney measure.

Plot to Murder.

Chicago, July 27.—A startling plot to murder State Senator James J. Barbour unless he paid $5,000 to the conspirators, was revealed, today, while he was in the federal building arranging bail for "Big Tim" Murphy, indicted in the Dearborn street mail robbery.

Suspected of Murder.

Dayton, July 27.—Robert New, John Kowen and Charles Condit, arrested as suspects in the murder of Arthur Conery, Columbus auto salesman, near Hamilton, Sunday morning, were turned over to Warren county officials, today.

LAST WITNESS FOR THE STATE

"Billy" Maharg on Witness Stand Today.

HEARS CICCOTTE TELL OF THROWING GAMES

Witness Goes into Detail Touching Conversations with Players and Gamblers.

Chicago, July 27.—The state's case in the "Black Sox" baseball scandal partly collapsed, this afternoon, when Judge Hugo M. Friend had the cases of two of the defendants stricken off and declared that verdicts of guilty were brought in against two others the chances are he would not allow them to stand.

The cases against Ben and Louis Levli, alleged gamblers of Des Moines, Iowa, were nolle prossed by the state after the court had granted the motion of the defense to dismiss them.

Motions to dismiss the cases of "Buck" Weaver and "Happy" Felsch were denied, but Judge Friend said: "There has been so little evidence presented against the two men that it is doubtful if I would allow a verdict of guilty to stand if the jury brought it in."

But as some evidence has been presented against them, I will not grant the motion of dismissal unless the state indicates it will nolle pross.

The state made no indication that it would.

The motions for dismissal were made after the state had closed its case with the testimony of William "Billy" Maharg.

Maharg Talks.

Chicago, July 27.—William "Billy" Maharg, the state's last witness in the "Black Sox" baseball scandal trial, today testified on the stand that he heard Eddie Cicotte tell "Bibi" Burns that he and the 1919 World's series. The alleged conversation between the former White Sox pitcher and Burns took place, according to Maharg, at the Ansonia hotel in New York, shortly before the series.

Maharg's inside story of the bribery, double-crossing and intrigue in connection with the throwing of the series was considered a strong card in the prosecution.

The state was expected to finish its case with Maharg's testimony, today.

The first witness of the morning was Arthur E. Hammer, room clerk at the Sherman hotel here. He was asked to identify several photographs of the register of the hotel during the series and in each instance picked out the handwriting of Abe Attell, whom he said he knew well.

Questioning of Maharg was conducted by special prosecutors.

Maharg testified that he was employed by the Ford Motor company. Referred to at various times as a "gambler," "ball player" and baseball writer, the witness has been considered an enigma in the case.

The witness told of seeing Cicotte and Gandil in conversation with Burns at the New York hotel.

"After Cicotte and Gandil left the Ansonia hotel, did you have a conversation with 'Bibi' Burns?" asked the prosecutor.

Maharg replied that he had.

"Where did you go next?"

"I went to Philadelphia to see some fellows about financing the deal. Burns had told me that they would throw the World's series for $100,000."

"What, if anything did you say to Burns?" asked the state.

"I told him I would try to get the money," said the witness.

"On your arrival in Philadelphia, who did you see?"

"I saw a fellow by the name of 'Rosie'."

"Where did you go from Philadelphia?"

"Back to New York."

On Second Trip.

On his second trip to New York, Maharg said he saw Burns and they went to the Aqueduct race track where he said he saw the "first lieutenant" of Arnold Rothstein, New York gambler.

Later, he said, he met Rothstein at the Astor hotel in New York.

"What was said at that meeting?" inquired the prosecutor.

"Burns told Rothstein the White Sox were willing to 'throw' the World's series for $100,000 and wanted him to help finance the deal," Maharg replied. "But Rothstein refused to do anything of that kind."

"When next did you hear anything about the World's series?" Maharg was asked.

"I got a telegram from Burns to meet him in Cincinnati."

"Did you go to Cincinnati?"

"Yes."

"Who did you meet when you arrived in Cincinnati?"

"I met Bill Burns at the Staton hotel," Maharg replied.

"What, if anything, was said between you and Burns regarding the series?"

"Bill Burns told me," replied the witness, "that Abe Attell got Rothstein to finance the deal and that the players would get $20,000 after each ball game."

The testimony of Maharg remained unshaken after a brisk cross-examination by the defense. Before taking the stand, Maharg denied his name was "Peaches" Graham, former White Sox catcher and that his name was an anagram of the name "Graham."

SENATOR DENOUNCES WAYNE B. WHEELER

Accuses Him of "Pernicious Lobbying."

Washington, July 27.—Pointing to Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon league, who was seated in the gallery, Senator Broussard, Democrat, of Louisiana, accused him in the senate, today, of "pernicious lobbying" in behalf of the Willis-Campbell "anti-beer" bill. President Harding was asked, today, by Senator Willis, of Ohio, to exert his influence in preventing the promulgation of wine and beer regulations by the bureau of internal revenue prior to the passage by the senate of the Willis-Campbell anti-beer bill, which has already passed the house.

Willis told the president that the anti-beer measure would be disposed of by the senate after action on the pending Norris bill was completed and that "there was no good reason for hurry in issuing the beer regulations."

NEW FARE ORDINANCE IS PROMISED DAYTON

Plan To Reduce Street-Car
Fares is Outlined.

Dayton, July 27.—Following a meeting, last night, the city commission, today, instructed City Attorney Harshman to draw up a street-car fare ordinance on a five-cent rate with three cents for children. The ordinance may be passed Wednesday and in force in thirty days.

No change in the car strike situation is shown. The City and Oakwood companies are operating with non-union men, while three other lines have their old men back. Buses are doing a good business, too. The first serious fight in the strike came, last night, when Harry Glascoe was badly cut by Paul Smith, following an argument over the walkout. The latter is an employee of one of the lines.

PLACES HIS ASSETS IN HANDS OF TRUSTEE

Louis K. Liggett Is Caught in a Big Market Slump.

Boston, July 27.—Louis K. Liggett, president of the United Drug company, former president of the Boston chamber of commerce, reported to be a millionaire, today placed his assets in the hands of a trustee.

This action was taken, according to a statement issued by Attorney Frederick Snow, of a law firm, because of the decline in the market value of United Drug company, common stock in the last twenty-four hours.

The stock has declined about thirty points this week, going down about twenty points today, when it sold at a record low price for both common and preferred.

Appeals Remitted.

Washington, July 27.—Renewed appeals for the immediate release of Eugene V. Debs, Socialist leader now in Atlanta penitentiary, were made to President Harding, today. William H. Johnston, head of the International Machinists' union, headed the delegation which conferred with the president relative to Debs.

Bride Disappears.

Irvine, New Jersey, July 27.—Robert Widsaek, of Irvine, told the police here that his fiancée, Mazie Ball, eighteen of Danbury, Conn., had left her home on her way to marry him and had disappeared. She left Danbury last Friday. Widsaek is a wounded war veteran.

Order Established.

London, July 27.—The Spanish army of occupation in Morocco has now established order in the whole of the Melilla valley, said an official despatch to the Spanish embassy today.

Market Close.

New York, July 27.—The stock market closed heavy, today. Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds irregular.

A BIG INCREASE IN CRIME NOTED

Authority on Criminology Talks of Situation.

PROHIBITION MAKES
MANY LAW VIOLATORS

Millions Added to Number in the United States.

Absence of Saloon Makes It Easier for Police To Keep the Known Criminals Moving.

Good and Bad Effects.

New York, July 27.—Prohibition has made more criminals than any other law.

But aside from adding to the criminal classes of America, those who violate the eighteenth amendment, it has had a salutary effect in breaking up nests of criminals and has caused a decrease in the more serious crimes, Deputy Commissioner Faurot, an acknowledged authority on criminology, said today.

Hard times and heat are combining to lend impetus to another crime wave in the United States, Faurot said. These two factors are to blame for the increase in "licks-ups," burglaries and sex crimes noted upon police blotters throughout the country.

The East is in the throes of another series of petty crimes. As for organized crime, it is on the decline, Faurot believes.

"As long as you have hard times you will have petty crime," said Faurot. "A man who has never committed a crime in his life gets 'hard up,' gets a gun and sticks up some one. Times are hard just now and crime plentiful."

The terrific heat of the present summer has led to an increase in sexual crime, he says.

"The effect of prohibition upon crime in the United States has been, of course, to add millions of citizens to our criminal class. But except for making criminals of those who take a drink now and then, it has helped check crime in the United States in many ways."

THE BIRTH RATE IN GERMANY BETTER

Reported In Excess of Death Rate for Past Year.

Berlin, July 27.—The flapping of the wings of Dr. Stork heard so little during the war, is again a familiar sound in Germany. The pessimists have ceased worrying about "race suicide" and a receding birth rate and are now gloomy about how to dispose of Germany's surplus population with no colonies.

The birth curve fell so low during the war that it went off the statistical chart entirely. Statisticians in the Neue Berliner Zeitung, estimate that nearly 5,000,000 children would have been born in Germany under normal conditions, between the years, 1914 and 1919.

Last year, the birth rate passed the death rate for the first time since 1914 and fears of "race suicide" are past. The death rate, incidentally, has increased from 15.5 persons to 1,000, in 1913, to 16.3 last year.

Monkton Bar, Match, Fire.

Fire department No. 3 was called to the home of George Andrews, No. 272 east George street, about 10:30 o'clock this morning to extinguish a small blaze. During the absence of the family a small neighbor boy touched a lighted match on the mosquito bar at one of the windows and this set fire to the blind. The blaze was extinguished and very little damage resulted.

Richard Is Fined.

New York, July 27.—Tex Rickard promoter of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight, was fined $1,000, today, by Federal Judge Sheppard for bringing films of the fight from New Jersey to New York in violation of the federal statute which prohibits interstate traffic in prize-fight films. F. C. Quimby, a picture producer, was similarly fined. Both pleaded guilty.

POISON-PEN AUTHOR IS TRAPPED IN THIS CITY

W. A. Newman Fined for Criminal Libel by Mayor.

AFTER INDIANA PEOPLE
BRING ABOUT HIS ARREST

Hotel Clerk, Sixty-Two, Signs
Confession—Unusual Story
Unfolded by Sleuth.

William A. Newman, night clerk at the Hotel Marion, this morning at 9 o'clock pleaded guilty to a charge of criminal libel, before Mayor T. E. Andrews, was fined $50 and given a suspended sentence of six months in the Dayton workhouse.

Late yesterday, when arrested, Newman signed a written confession acknowledging that he was the author of a series of "poison-pen" letters that have been despatched anonymously to prominent business and professional men and manufacturers in Wabash and Logansport, Indiana.

These letters were threatening, insinuating and insulting. Mayor Andrews placed Newman in the custody of W. G. Minshall, proprietor of Hotel Marion, and indicated to Newman that the least infraction on his part would result in enforcing the workhouse sentence.

Nabbed Late Yesterday. Newman was arrested here late yesterday, when Sheriff Elmer Vrooman, of Wabash, Indiana, Robert R. Patton, Wabash attorney, and Harry P. McKee, special representative of the Burns agency in Chicago, came to Marion to sign the affidavits.

At the time Newman was arrested four suit cases were seized at Hotel Marion. These contained carbon copies of the letters he had mailed into Indiana. In a "scrap book" was pasted many of these copies, while included in the file was a list of several scores of names of Wabash people who, it is believed, were to be the recipients of letters in the same series.

Find the Goods. In Newman's suitcase files were found letters stamped and unstamped addressed to Wabash people.

The investigation which led to Newman's arrest was started last fall, when prominent Wabash people, who had been the recipients of these letters, hired the Burns people to trail down the author of the communication.

Until three weeks ago, according to advices received today, suspicion did not lead to Newman. When McKee, the Burns representative, came to Marion three weeks ago, he gained the confidence of Newman and uncovered the suitcase files.

Falls Into Trap. Newman would write the letters signed "Citizen" or "Taxpayer," and despatch them to some point outside of Marion for mailing. Last week when McKee left Marion to go into Chicago, Newman gave him three letters to be mailed to Wabash people from that point.

Newman's excuse for the series of letters, according to his statements to Mayor Andrews this morning, was that he had "been persecuted and harassed" by Wabash people.

Before coming to Marion, Newman was clerk in a hotel at Wabash. His sister owned this hotel.

Business and professional people of Wabash organized a stock company and put up a $200,000 hotel, which, Newman believed, deprived his sister's hotel of a share of the business that formerly had been coming to that place. He is sixty-two years.

BUILDING OPERATIONS ARE PICKING UP IN CITY

Great Revival of Home-Building
Indicated, Builders Say.

ENCOURAGING SIGNS IN MONEY MARKET, TOO

Optimistic Outlook for Resumption of Normal Business Activities in Marion.

Building operations are being generally resumed in Marion and matters in the real estate line are picking up.

Builders say that indications for a great revival of home-building activities in this city are quite promising, after a practical cessation of construction work for the past four or five months. The little work now being done is in the completion of houses that were started early in the spring.

A stringent money market has been the biggest factor in retarding home building, builders say. But this state of affairs now shows encouraging signs of improvement, and there are hopeful evidences in the betterment of local industrial conditions, which, builders say, afford optimism for a not far distant resumption of normal business activities.

New Houses Started. W. T. Jones has started three new houses on the corner of Park and Wallace streets and has in progress of erection a $40,000 combination business room and moving-picture block on the corner of Davis street and Bellefontaine avenue.

Mr. Jones said this morning that the demand for houses has picked up quite noticeably the past few weeks and that there has been comparatively few failures to meet their obligations among the many who are buying homes of him on the payment plan.

This, said Mr. Jones, is an evidence that things in Marion are far from being as bad as they might be, since in normal times there were always a few purchasers who, owing to unfortunate circumstances, found it necessary to give up their homes.

A Splendid Start. A splendid start has been made in building. C. D. and W. E. Schaffner are now finishing seven houses and plan to start several more soon.

C. A. Curtis is completing ten houses. J. W. Jacoby is building five houses and is planning to erect several more.

Stewart G. Gleason is building four houses and John W. Thew is also resuming his building.

JUNIOR CHAUTAUQUA PROGRESSING NICELY

Mrs. Daisy Freeman Asman Reports Today.

Affairs at the Junior Chautauqua were progressing nicely this morning, the entire morning being devoted to pageant drill. Mrs. Daisy Freeman Asman, supervisor of the organization, is greatly pleased with the ready response and interest shown by the children in the pageant work as well as in the other lines of Junior work. The regular daily schedule of story hour and game periods were carried out this afternoon.

Mrs. Asman will conduct drill practice of eighteen Boy Scouts, who are offering their services to help make the pageant a success at the Y. M. C. A. building tonight and the entire cast in the spectacle is to report at the pavilion at 11 o'clock tomorrow. The girls who have the parts of pilgrims are to report at 10 o'clock for preliminary drill. The work seems to be progressing in good form and the pageant promises to be a success.

G. W. Johnson has purchased from W. T. Jones a two-story frame and stone house on Summit street and will take possession about September 1.

Thursdays Remembrance. The thirtieth annual reunion of the Thurston family will be held at Greenwood lake, Delaware, Thursday, August 4, 1921.

TWO BARNs DESTROYED BY FIRE NEAR ARBELA

They Belong to Charles Joliff and C. P. Manley.

Nichwood, O., July 27.—[Special.]—Two barns were burned near Arbelia this week. A barn belonging to Charles Joliff was burned Tuesday afternoon about 1 o'clock with its contents, consisting of ten tons of new hay, three hogs, a top buggy and a Ford machine. The machine was not entirely destroyed, but the top was burned off.

The origin of the fire is unknown and the loss about $1,000, with only a small insurance.

A large barn owned by G. P. Manley was burned Monday afternoon and is supposed to have caught from a spark from the engine of a threshing outfit, threshers having just completed their work. The loss is estimated at about $1,500, with small insurance. One hundred and fifty bushels of oats, a straw pile, harness, some hay and a buggy were destroyed.

ITALIAN SLAIN AFTER ARREST AND ACQUITTAL

James Ross Waylaid Returning Home from Work.

SHOT AND STABBED, HE RUNS FOR HELP

Last Saturday He's Released by Police—Charged with Destroying Fruit Trees.

James Ross, a foreigner, residing at No. 241 Edwards street, was murdered as he entered the rear yard of his home while returning from work at the Erie roundhouse about 11:10 o'clock Tuesday night. Ross was shot twice and stabbed in the neck, his assailant being unknown. The police are working on a clue that may lead to an arrest.

Ross, who is a fire knocker at the roundhouse, generally returned to his home by going down Senate street and cutting through a vacant lot to the rear end of his yard. He was accompanied Tuesday night by Frank Terzo, a fellow workman who resides on Ayondale avenue. Terzo leaving him at the lot off Senate street.

Police Theorists
Indications are that Ross was attacked just as he stepped between a coal shed and an out building at the rear of his yard. It is the supposition of police that he was first stabbed in the neck from in front, but evidently, made his escape from his assailant and walk twice shot as he was running away to the south at the rear of the yard.

The stab wound in the front of the neck was not deep but from the amount of blood lost by the victim, it probably cut the jugular vein. One of the shots took effect at the base of the left temple and the other entered the left side just above the hip.

Nine shells from a 330 automatic were found on the ground where the assailant stood when he fled the shooting. One shell failed to explode. One of the bullets struck in the shed at the rear of the yard to the south of the Ross home.

Ross to Sansotta.

After being shot and stabbed, Ross ran through the garden to the rear of his house and around the house to the home of Rock Sansotta, next house north of the Ross home. Going to a side window of the front room where Sansotta sleeps, Ross ran his hand through the screen and shook the curtain. Sansotta jumped up and raised the curtain as Ross fell to the ground.

About a minute later Frank Terzo, who has left Ross but a few minutes before was on the scene, having been attracted by the shots Ross was dead when he reached him and he informed Rock Sansotta of what had happened.

Dr. C. S. Burnables, deputy coroner, was notified and the Hess & Markert wagon was called. The police were on the scene a few minutes following the shooting. The shells were for a special size weapon and of the type used in the police department.

Victim Well Known.

Ross, who would have been twenty-six years old next Friday, was well known and seemed to be quite a favorite among his fellow countrymen. He never knew of having any enemies. He was arrested last Saturday on the affidavit of Mike Caprioglio on a charge of destroying some of the latter's fruit trees, but was dismissed for want of evidence after a hearing in the mayor's court.

Surviving Ross are his widow and three children, Virginia, aged about four years; Elizabeth, aged about thirteen years; and Salvatore, aged fourteen months. His parents two sisters and three brothers reside in Italy and he has one brother in Chicago.

TOO SMOOTH, HE SAYS

That's Why Wilson Failed, Chautauqua Lecturer Asserts.

M. H. LICHLITER, OF BOSTON, IS SPEAKER

Dunbar's White Hussars Please with Splendid Program Last Evening—Various Numbers.

M. H. Lichliter, of Boston, addressed the Chautauqua Assembly Tuesday evening on "The Epilogue of the War." The speaker discussed the situation from his own point of view.

One feels, Mr. Lichliter said, that the peace treaty did shatter all the idealistic objectives of America before the war. When Lloyd George went in to the conference he knew just exactly what England wanted; so did the representatives of Japan, France and the other nations. The failure of Wilson was not a failure of words, but the failure of an American foreign policy, the failure of a republic that has not cared to train up its diplomats the speaker declared. He emphasized his point by stating that we will never get any place until we raise men who can confer with the diplomats of England, France and the foreign countries.

"Ideal Conscience." "The time has come, Mr. Lichliter said, when we have to fight the largest battle of the world with the ideal conscience and larger things of idealism. Since the war idealism has decayed and there has followed a certain carelessness of life in general. Something has been lost out of the American consciousness which has to be regained.

"When we soberly study the tendency in the aftermath of the war I wonder," Mr. Lichliter continued, "if we know America's address, we are going, but whether? There has been an emotional reaction, a slump from the high ideals of 1917.

"I am pleading," Mr. Lichliter said, "as I meet men and women today that the time is ripe for a changed attitude of mind. The time has come for a return of clear accurate thinking of our problems."

Mr. Lichliter said there is present today a type of mind very much like vaudeville, a form of entertainment which requires no thinking, and you can park your brains on the outside." Vaudeville, he said, was for the tired business man and the jaded society woman.

"The smoke screen of propaganda," the speaker said, "has filled most of us with a fear for the future." He pleaded for the kind of thinking that goes past the man with an axe to grind combined with liberality. He declared:

"Honest, straight accurate thinking combined with the other man's outlook we could settle the Mexican situation in fifteen minutes."

"If We Could See."

"If we could see the Mexican situation through the Mexican's eyes, the aspirations he has for his country, it would be much different. The same thing applies to the Japanese situation. All that Japan protests against is the practice we have made of accepting all the lowest classes of European immigration and excluding the Japanese and Chinese."

The speaker referred to Mr. Lloyd George as a man of ability, saying that England was governed by Lloyd George. In speaking of the Irish situation the speaker said that in New England they believed that the time had come "for us to keep our mouths shut and our hands off."

"Clear thinking and an attempt to see the others point of view would mean peace in industrial life," Mr. Lichliter said. He urged the establishment of human contact in industry and cited the instances of the Hydraulic Press company and the International Harvester company.

In speaking of the foreigner in our country he said: "We made little effort to appreciate their culture and art which they bring to our shores."

Preceding Mr. Lichliter's address, a splendid concert was given by the members of the White Hussars who made an attractive appearance in their white, blue and gold uniforms. The opening number was an overture, "Light Calvary," by the entire company, followed by a catchy selection, "Knockout Drops," also by the company.

Dudley Buck's arrangement of Annie Laurie was given by the chorus, after which "My Home Town Is a One Horse Town" was given by Glen Case and chorus. The band number, "Stars and Stripes Forever," won a hearty round of applause and was excellently played. "Oh, You Drummer," with Edward Roney as the drummer was one of the most clever numbers of the program. Mr. Roney, as a drummer, is in a class by himself.

"Comrades in Arms" was given by the chorus after which Cecil Stage sang "Would You Like to Go Back to Home Sweet Home," assisted by the chorus. Mr. Stage's solo was heartily received by the audience. The prelude closed with the band selection "American Patrol," by Meacham.

WHITE HUSSARS BAND

GREAT ENTERTAINERS

They Hold Down Boards Entire Afternoon Tuesday.

AND THEIR MIXTURE CATCHES POPULAR FANCY

Alice Sherfy Houston Conducts Her Cooking School, Delighting 400 Women.

Ralph Dunbar's famous White Hussars band was the entire attraction at the Chautauqua Tuesday afternoon, giving an hour and a half program of as delightful music as one would wish to listen to.

The band of eighteen pieces, under the capable direction of Al Sweet, not only played very entertaining selections but the members all joined in giving the audience several splendid vocal numbers which were heartily applauded.

The program in its entirety was very well received and afforded one of the most enjoyable numbers so far given on the Chautauqua course. Owing to the extreme heat the men did not appear in uniform during the afternoon.

Members of Band. The members of the band other than Mr. Sweet were Willard Rundquist, Jesse Ewing, George Gardner, Walter Rolfe, George Bezotte, R. C. Langworthy, Arthur Baker, Daniel Bishop, Harry Pivmle, Glen Case, Eugene Huff, John Knox, Jack Osborn, Cecil Stage, Chester Harding, Edward Saunders, and Edward Richey.

The band opened its program with a march, "Call of the Elk," which was followed by one of the most popular overtures of the day, "Morning, Noon and Night." Supper. The company responded to an encore by giving "Love Nest."

The men sang next giving the audience a treat with Park's "Until the Dawn." So well was this enjoyed that the company came back with an encore, "Herpsicle." Mr. Sweet then gave a cornet solo, "Inflammatus Stahelmater," by Rosini with hand accompaniment. His encore number was "Wyoming Lullaby," and both solos were beautifully rendered.

Mr. Stage Sings. Mr. Stage, baritone of rich tones, favored the audience with "My Little Home on the Hill," and in response to the well-merited applause sang "Make Believe."

One of the best numbers on the program was a selection from De-Kovens opera "Robinhood" by the band and as an encore the men sang a novelty number, "Homes Again Blues." The male chorus sang "Winter Song," by Bullard, and was followed by "Kentucky Blues," by the chorus, with a tenor solo by Mr. Case. Mr. Case has a splendid voice and sang well.

Another big number and one which greatly pleased, was the imitating of the bands of a circus parade. The first was a "Billboard March," the next represented the jazzy tune of a colored band, then came the jubilee singers with "Don't Ye Hear 'Em Bells." After a clown band solo came an imitation of elephants on the march and the vocal imitating of a calliope.

Next was given Victor Herbert's opera, "Mademoiselle Modiste," a band number, with "Wag, Wag, Blues," as an encore. This enjoyable number was followed a big number "The Evolution of Dixie." The afternoon's entertainment was closed with a light air, "Ain't We Got Fun."

Cooking School. After the concert Alice Sherfy Houston conducted her cooking school before over 400 women. Yesterday was cake day and she baked two cakes, giving her instructions while she prepared mixed and baked the cakes.

It was announced by Manager Llewellyn in the evening that only children who came and sat with their mother during the entire demonstration would be served hereafter when samples of cooking were passed around and the children playing on the outside could not be served. This announcement was made necessary owing to children playing about, coming in when the samples were passed yesterday.

ROAD LETTING NOT DELAYED BY PROTEST

Warner's Complaint Has Nothing To Do with It.

STATE FINANCE DIRECTOR FLOYD E. WAITE SAYS

Ohio Farmers Ask Road Work Delay Until the Costs Are Lower.

Ohio farmers, through Murray D. Lincoln, executive secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation, yesterday in Columbus emphatically denied that they wanted to obstruct state highway development, but appealed to the administration to follow the governors of Illinois and Indiana in holding up construction until material prices are drastically reduced.

Finance Director Floyd E. Waite declared the delay in letting the contracts was in no way due to protests raised by Senator Charles Brand, of Urbana, or Fred W. Warner, Marion county prosecuting attorney, against "exorbitant costs," but it was hinted that state officers were up in the air because brick, cement, limestone, asphalt and pitch advocates were insisting on the adoption of their particular method of construction.

While estimates show little variation in matter which material is contemplated it is no secret that cabinet members are finding it difficult to decide materials and methods.

Another development of the road construction situation was the issuance of a statement last night in which Highway Director Leon C. Herrick asserted that he always had reference to 1917 and not 1914 prices when he said the administration had got back to pre-war prices.

At the same time Secretary Lincoln, of the farmer's organization, said the highway department was in possession of a digest of replies received to a questionnaire sent to each of the eighty-eight counties of the state, all of which urged the administration to wait long enough for the price readjustment to be reflected in road building estimates.

"What harm will be done by waiting a few months longer?" Secretary Lincoln asked.

"The farmers want and need good roads just as much as automobile tourists but they want full value for each dollar of taxation at this time. They feel that the soundest plan would be to conserve and properly patrol existing roads until the readjustment has reached rock bottom. If it is good for private business to wait for lower prices, why should a state be in such a hurry to build at any cost?"

"The farmers are only appealing to the common sense and sound judgment of the administration in asking them to lay off until the time when they must inevitably get much better terms."

Director Herrick replying to Senator Brand, said he clearly stated that he had reference to 1917 before the United States entered the war, when he made his comparisons. "The assumption that the pre-war period I had reference to goes back to 1914 was not warranted," Director Herrick added.

"We were specific, when we made the statement, to refer to the 1917 period before America went into the war. Notwithstanding this, an attempt was made to mislead the public by seeking to apply our comparison to 1914."

Says Road Never Existed. In addition, the charges included figures alleged to represent the cost of building a certain type of road in Champaign county at that time, when the facts are that there never existed any road of that particular type in that county.

"As indicating the utter lack of foundation for the statements quoted, it should be recalled that only recently it was declared that gravel roads in Champaign county could be built for $1,000 a mile, and that, when pressed for substantiation, the estimate was changed to $10,000 a mile in an interview given to the Urbana Daily Democrat, a Champaign county paper.

"Senator Brand refers to cost of building roads in 1914 in his county, but the Urbana-West Jefferson road, built at that time, is already destroyed because of inadequate construction, and is about to be closed so that it may be rebuilt.

"Roads at that time averaged about six inches in depth, while now, because of the heavy traffic on main roads, it is necessary to build them nine inches deep.

"At the time referred to widths ranged from twelve to fourteen feet. Now they must run a minimum of sixteen feet to accommodate traffic.

"There is a difference of at least 30 per cent. between the heavy type of construction required now and the lighter type used, say, in 1916. And the latter has proved wholly inadequate for modern needs.

"As for the declaration that in 1914 it cost the commissioners of Champaign county $15,000 a mile to build brick roads it should be remembered that Champaign county never had a brick road. The statement indicates either a gross lack of knowledge of the facts or a reckless disregard of them.

Given Cost Comparisons. "Reconstruction costs in Mr. Brand's own district bear out the statement that highway costs are back to the basis immediately prior to America's entrance into the war.

"Thus in 1917 it cost forty cents a square yard per inch of depth to build the Bellefontaine-Lima road in Lucas county adjoining Champaign county on the north. This was concrete construction.

"In comparison with this, on the basis of bids received last week it will cost forty-one cents a square yard to build a section of the Cincinnati-Columbus road in Warren county of the same type of construction.

Again it cost twenty-three cents a square yard per inch of depth in 1917 to build the Urbana-West Jefferson road known as the Barnett bill job, in Champaign county. This was the only water-bound macadam road built in that county in 1917.

"On the other hand it will cost the state only twenty-two cents a square yard per inch of depth to build the Waterville-Saxton water-bound macadam road in Lucas county, for which bids were received last week.

"I desire only to add that it is our purpose to construct highways as economically as they can be built, for substantial, enduring service to the people of Ohio. It is not our purpose to build roads which will be de-

VELOCK ON SPORTS

New York July 27.—"It looks like a nip-and-tuck fight with the Indians all the way to the wire, but we hope to beat them to it."

So said Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Americans, as the Yankees dug in at the Polo grounds today for a fifteen-game run against the western teams.

"Our club is in good shape for a long and hard fight," Huggins continued. "All of the regular players, thanks to luck, are in condition and the pitchers, with the exception of Percy, are going great guns."

Shawkey, for instance, has performed a wonderful comeback. We are ready for at thing and I think the boys realize this stretch at home means a lot to us if we can pile up percentage on the right side of the column."

The world's champion Indians, got away to a good start on their eastern road trip, Tuesday, by trimming the Boston Red Sox. Their victory the Yanks being idle, put them a game and a half in front of New York. Huggins' team opened at home today, after a successful western trip with the scrappy St. Louis Browns as their opponents.

The fortunes of the Yanks and Indians during the remainder of July and the first two weeks in August, should have an important bearing on the outcome of the hot fight between them for the leadership. A battle that is expected to draw the largest crowd of the season at the Polo grounds will start next Saturday when the Indians arrive in New York for four games.

NINETEEN MOTOR CARS ARE DAMAGED IN FIRE

Bender & Luellen Garage Blasts
Totals $20,000 to $25,000.

EXPLOSION OF AUTO TANK BELIEVED CAUSE

Loss Said To Be Practically Covered by Insurance—Starts About 2 A. M.

Fire following a mysterious explosion at the garage of Bender & Luellen, on north Prospect street, about 2 o'clock this morning caused a loss estimated between $20,000 and $25,000, nearly all of which is covered by insurance.

John K. Schwinger, who resides in one of the flats above, jumped up on hearing the explosion, and looking out the front window he saw smoke coming from the garage. He telephoned the alarm of fire and department Nos. 1 and 2 responded on the first alarm and department No. 3 on the second alarm.

Three lines of hose were used on the blaze which soon spread over the entire front room of the garage where the cars are stored. Another line was laid for use in case of necessity.

In Storage Room.—The fire started in the storage room just next to the accessory room at the rear of the office. On investigation this morning, the only tank found to be exploded was the vacuum tank of a new Hudson machine which belonged to the owners of the garage and had been used a little for demonstrating.

The families of J. K. Schwinger, Harold McCoy, Homer Stone and Claude Turrer reside in the apartments over the garage. Those not awakened by the explosion were aroused by the alarm of fire sounded by Schwinger and they hurried out of the place in their night clothes, some of the men taking time to dress.

Fire-Proof Construction.

The fire did not get out of the front room of the garage as a result of the fireproof construction, and the residents of the flats above suffered no damage.

The fire spread rapidly over the storage-room, but fortunately the flames were high and no tanks exploded. The tops and beds of nineteen machines according to the count made this morning, were burned badly and some tires were melted down, but most of the machines could be started this morning. In addition to this there were nine machines in the work room at the rear, but the fire did not spread to this room.

Bender & Luellen had nine automobiles and one Ford truck in the fire. The automobiles were of different makes and a few were new. The new Ford touring cars of Harry Thrush, D. C. Cushman, M. & J. Haggard and W. M. Laughbaum were toward the front of the garage and were badly burned.

Damage to Machines.—Schwinger was able to run his machine out of the garage this morning. It being badly burned. The delivery trucks of the H. C. Schertz Furniture company, the Oscar L. Martin Furniture company, and the Uhler-Phillips company, were quite badly damaged, but could be run this morning.

A Studebaker machine of E. King, stored in the garage, and a motorcycle were badly damaged. In the neighborhood of twenty-five tires and other accessories belonging to the proprietors of the garage were destroyed.

Fined $10; Wife's Complaint.—J. D. Davis was arrested at the Peter Pan apartments on Blaine avenue, Tuesday night on complaint of his wife. She appeared against him this morning and on his plea of guilty to disorderly conduct, the mayor fined him $10.

Damage Payment.—Fined $25.—W. H. Baker was arrested Tuesday afternoon on a charge of driving a tractor and threshing outfit across the asphalt paving near the end of east Center street, damaging the asphalt. Baker entered a plea of guilty to the charge and was fined $25.

Not Cruel, He Says.—James A. Waugh was arrested Tuesday evening on the affidavit of his wife who charged him with cruelty toward her. The charge was brought through the humane society. On being arraigned before the mayor Waugh entered a plea of not guilty this morning and he will have a hearing later.

Frightened Away.—Early this morning the police received a report that four fellows in a Ford machine tried to gain entrance to the grocery of Hopper & Lusch, Center and Charles streets, and after being frightened away they went to the grocery of H. Abbott & Sons, Center street and Grand avenue. An employee of the Butter Krust bakery rode by on his wheel to frighten the fellows and then called the police. When the officers reached the scene the fellows were gone. The police found a cellar window open and the back screen cut, but entrance had not been gained.

Mayor Releases Auto $200.—Frank C. Johnson, arrested July 14 on a charge of illegally possessing intoxicating liquor was given a hearing in the mayor's court, Tuesday afternoon. On the first hearing Johnson was fined $200, but was granted a new trial for the reason that no affidavit had been drawn. Following the hearing Tuesday, Johnson was found guilty of the charge filed against him and was fined $1,000 and the costs in the case. Execution of judgment was suspended and the case will be taken to the higher court. The defendant was released on bond of $1,000.

Their Own Ideas, Perhaps.—Three tourists, John C. Bartholme and his two sisters, Mrs. C. G. Funk and Miss E. M. Kees, all of Brookline, a suburb of Boston, were in the city today enroute to Louisville, Kentucky. From Louisville they intend to make their way to California. The car of the travelers is unique in the fact that it has a specially-made body. The chassis and engine are of the well-known "diver," but the body is of special make, appearing to be a sedan. What would apparently be the back seat of the car is an arrangement for the carrying of baggage, coats, etc. The front and back seats are so arranged that by adjusting the two may be made into an excellent spring bed. The tourists appeared to be traveling in perfect comfort.

Scout's Reorganization Meeting.—Troop 1, Boy Scouts, was to have taken an over-night hike this evening, but the hike was postponed indefinitely and in its place an important reorganization meeting will be held at the scout rooms at the Y. M. C. A. building. Tonight a complete reorganization of the troop will be started. New officers and patrol leaders will be elected and appointed. Registration for the new scout year will also be conducted. The process of reorganization and registration will be conducted by the scoutmaster, Carl Ebert. Plans for the scout camp to be held at Hepburn, August 22 to September 2, will also be taken up at tonight's meeting. Scoutmaster Ebert stated that it is highly expedient that every member of the troop be present at the meeting.

For Land Owners.—County Agent S. B. Stowe this morning received a letter from W. P. Miller, Columbus, agricultural agent for this section, announcing that the bureau of public roads of the United States department of agriculture has $12,500,000 pounds of picric acid available for sale to land owners. The acid, the letter states, is suitable for clearing agricultural lands of stumps and stones.

Health of Women.

How many perfectly well women do you know? Isn't it true that in order to keep up with the march of progress the endurance of woman is often strained to its utmost, and the tax upon her physical system is in many cases greater than she can stand. Headaches develop, and nervous irritability, backache, dragging down sensations, and other painful ailments peculiar to women. The reliable remedy when a woman gets into such a condition is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as for nearly half a century it has proved the natural restorative for these troubles.—Adv.

Is Bringing In Orders

Tests of the Eymon continuous-rail crossing, placed several years ago and the many improvements made on the invention since the first crossings were installed have brought orders from the New York Central and Baltimore &amp; Ohio Railroad companies, officials of the Eymon Crossing company have announced.

The New York Central Railroad company placed the latest order for one of the new crossings to be installed at the crossing of its line and that of the New York Chicago &amp; St. Louis road — the Nickel Plate—between Findlay and Galena, just south of Toledo. The crossing is now in course of construction at the plant of the Indianapolis Switch &amp; Frog company.

THE NEW EYMON CROSSING

Springfield, and will be shipped in a few weeks.

An order for another of the new type crossings was recently filed for the Baltimore &amp; Ohio Railroad company to be placed at Plymouth. It is expected that this crossing will be installed and in operation within a short time.

Tests of the Eymon continuous-rail crossing by the roads which placed them some years ago have been most severe and evidently demonstrated to railroad engineers the value of the invention.

Another operation of the lever in the interlocking tower moves the plates to form a continuous rail for the train crossing the track which the first train passed over.

The first Eymon crossing had the bars operating these triangular plates in the center of the tracks, which met with objections on the part of railroad engineers. These men pointed out that a dragging brake beam might put the crossing out of commission by tearing these bars out and repairs would necessitate traffic delays.

During the past eighteen months the crossing company officials have been at work to correct this feature and make other improvements on the invention and now have a crossing with these objectionable features eliminated. There is no mechanism in the center of the track to be torn out of place, the crossing is so constructed that the movement of the plates automatically sweeps the flange of any particles of dirt that might gather, standard interlocking can be attached easily and, in addition to several other improvements, a deeper flangeway is provided which insures the crossing more than twice as long as the old type of Eymon crossing.

THE OLD EYMON CROSSING

The first patent on the crossing was issued to the inventor, James H. Eymon, in 1910. The first crossing, of eighty-five pound rail, was installed on the Pennsylvania railroad in May, 1913. The second was installed at Delaware in May, 1918 and was of ninety-pound rail. The third was installed on the Toledo &amp; Ohio Central Mortimer in September, 1918, and was of 100-pound rail.

These crossings are still in service and give promise of efficient operation for several years. An indication of the value of the crossing is gained from the fact that during the seven years prior to the installation of the Eymon crossing at Carrothers, four of the old style open throat manganese crossings were used. The Eymon crossing at that point, already has been in service seven years and still is in excellent condition.

Another idea of the value of the local company's crossing is gained from the fact that the open-throat crossing costs approximately $1,500. The constant pounding of railroad trains over these open spaces in the crossing gradually breaks the crossing down and it is figured that the average life of one of these crossings is eighteen months. This means that in eighteen months the railroad companies, in addition to the cost of repairs and upkeep on the old crossing, must replace it in eighteen months with an entirely new crossing.

A view of the two Eymon crossings—the one first placed in service and the new type just ordered by the two railroad companies—presents some interesting studies in the progress of improving the invention to make it comply with all railroad engineering requirements and simplify the mechanism.

Movable triangular plates of railroad steel, operated with standard interlocking, provide a continuous rail for the trains to pass over and eliminate the pounding of railroad wheels that is so noticeable when a train passes over an open-throat crossing. These plates are moved into place to form a continuous rail for a train passing in one direction, while the usual safety devices, too,

A number of patents have been issued to the company since the first was secured and applications for patents on all of the improvements are now pending. The crossing also has been patented in Canada. The last patents were issued in 1914.
